TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The Embassy of the Republic of Kenya is pleased to endorse and support the Kindness Adventure school assembly program. In the spring of 2017, our representatives were delighted to experience the live performance at an elementary school near our Washington D.C. embassy.

The performance depicted our country in an accurate and positive way, and our office is encouraged to know that thousands of schools will experience this vibrant portrayal of our land, tribes, children and culture. Furthermore, we affirm the program's primary purpose, which is to inspire elementary-age children to be kind-hearted and open minded when encountering differences.

We are also very pleased that this program employs numerous Kenyan artisans who earn a living wage by handcrafting the items that are made available for families to purchase after the assembly visits their schools. Moreover, we are appreciative that some of the financial proceeds of the program are invested back into Kenya by way of funding water wells throughout dry regions of our country.

The Embassy of the Republic of Kenya holds this program in the highest esteem, and looks forward to continuing a long relationship with the Kindness Adventure.

Yours Sincerely,

David K. Gacheru
